Dedication

Our years at Howe High have been profitable not only in the acquiring of academic knowledge but in learning to adapt ourselves to society and to become useful citizens of our nation. The degree to which we have succeeded in this has depended upon the guidance we have received from the faculty of Howe High, who have always been willing to aid us in our diversified activities and have spent their time unselfishly and untiringly. It is not in our power to express adequate thanks individually to everyone who has helped make our school years successful. Therefore, we, the Class of 1949, do hereby offer our yearbook in dedication to Howe High School and to all those who have made it a lasting memory and a permanent milestone in our lives. Our deepest gratitude we do now express as payment of our most weighty debt to Mr. Martinson, our superintendent; Mr. Locke, our principal; Miss Richardson and Mr. Burke, our senior advisers; and the rest of the faculty—all members of the Howe High family.

Our Faculty

EDWIN A. MARTINSON
Superintendent

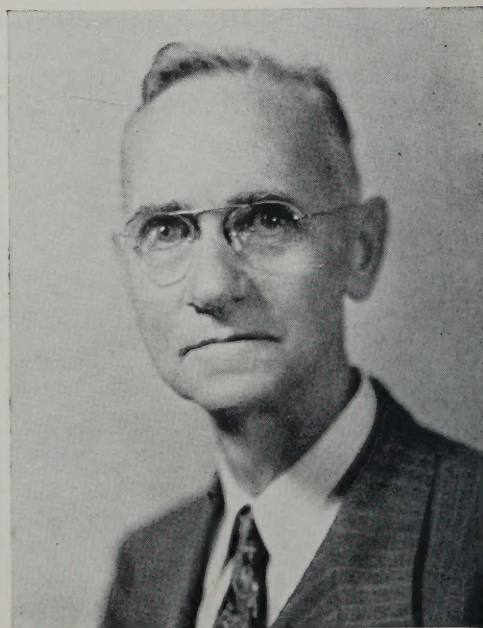

We shall never succeed in educating our young people until we first succeed in establishing in the minds of all people the basic truth that labor is not a curse, but a blessing, and that education will not free a person from laboring, as an adult, but tends to fit him for the work he undertakes to do.

EDWIN A. MARTINSON
Superintendent

*How often we have heard it said,—
"America is the land of opportunity."
Some people incline to the belief that this is true only of the years now past. They would say that there are now no frontiers to cross, no room in which to develop new resources and hence no new opportunities. However, for the courageous and the prepared there is still the chance for advancement, since they are ready to find the opportunity where none seems to exist. That you may take your place among these is our best wish for you at your graduation.*

The Unknown Soldier's Answer

*The war was on;
I heard the cry.
I left my family

*They told me not where I would go.
They only said I'd meet the foe.
And then I sailed across the sea,
Knowing not how long I'd be.*

*I met the foe
And he met me.
'Twas then that I began to cry,
'Cause then I knew I was to die.*

*The pain was great;
The death was slow.
Just how it was
You'll never know.*

*When I was found,
On the cold ground,
I had no name,
Yet I'd have fame.*

*I am the Unknown Soldier.
I should be at rest today.
But the world is growing bolder,
And I hear my people say,
"What Would The Unknown Soldier Say
If He Were Here Today?"*

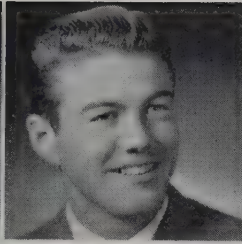

*If I could speak,
This I would say.
"Forget not God;
And forever pray."*

Class History

In September 1945, the caravan that was to carry the prospectors of 1949 was made ready for its long journey. The wagon commanders, Miss Mary G. Quinn, George Gracie, Nancy Marshall, Kathryn Ann Lewis, and Ruth Ward, helped to prepare the eager adventurers for the voyage that was to bring them both pleasure and knowledge.

The first year was an experience for these wayfarers; and their first party, the St. Patrick's Day Dance, provided funds to start their trip. Thus, this year can be recorded in the caravan records as a pleasant beginning for the years that were to follow.

A year passed, and still the travelers moved onward under the guidance of newly elected leaders, Miss Richardson, Richard Belanger, Nancy Marshall, Virginia Greathead, and John Loring. Work, experience, and lessons, well-learned, constituted the onward trek. On Halloween, progress was halted long enough to have a dance which provided both rest and enjoyment. Later, by a small lake, Nuttings', to be exact, the journey was halted again. Here, a roller skating party was held, after which the caravan moved on again with even more zest.

With fruitful knowledge thus gained, we advanced to meet and to overcome more easily and successfully attendant obstacles. Miss Dorothy Richardson, Bradley Jacobs, Nancy Marshall, Susan Jean, and John Loring were in charge of the caravan, and the wagons rolled along with ease as the third year of their journey came into view. The most important dance held by these prospectors was "Moonlight and Roses", the Junior Prom. Memories of this event will linger always in the minds of those who attended.

The goal was now in sight. Their destination was just over the horizon. Excitement was growing stronger, while a play was produced to provide further funds. A comedy, June Mad, the story of a lovesick teen-ager, well merited the plaudits of all lovers of amateur dramatics. One of the group, Mrs. Alice Card, adept at coaching, helped the cast: Susan Jean, Roland Smith, Helen Corkum, Duncan MacLennan, Bradley Jacobs, Kathryn Ann Lewis, Claire Boyland, Louis Tuleja, Barry Lynch, Richard Derby, Lorraine Lambert, Arthur Johanson, and Ruth Murphy to present laudable performances.

A club, the Tri-Delta, consisting of the women members of the caravan, was formed. Dances, parties, and food sales formed the list of activities of this active group. They did much to raise money for their group.

Now it was June 1949. Again in Forty-nine there has been another gold-rush. It has taken these prospectors four years to gain the greatest "gold" ever discovered, knowledge.

The caravan is breaking up now; each wagon will go on toward a separate goal; but all have the same wealth, a golden education as their best promise of success.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1949

Be it remembered by all that we, the Class of 1949 of the Howe High School, Town of Billerica, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind (we think) and memory, and knowing full well the many difficulties that may befall us, do make this our last will and testament, hereby revoking all wills made by us at any previous date.

We do bequeath and devise as follows:

FIRST: I, Emily Streitmater, leave my "academic" pursuits to Ruth Strom.

SECOND: I, Joan McGeouch, leave all my friends, with the exception of "Marnie" to join the W.A.F.'s.

THIRD: I, Miriam Dickie, leave my place in the chorus line to Barry or "Bobby".

FOURTH: I, Audrey (Legs) Lloyd, leave that part of my anatomy to the girl who wants to be Miss America of 1950.

FIFTH: I, Louise Sponagle, leave my liking for special delivery letters to Joan Keefe.

SIXTH: I, Susan Jean, leave my fencing ability to Larry Parks.

SEVENTH: I, Arthur Johansen, leave my sponge in chemistry to anyone who likes to have water fights—and lose.

EIGHTH: I, Robert Kelm, leave the Pinehurst Junior Recreation Club to Noreen Leahy.

NINTH: I, George Gracie, leave my theatrical soliloquies to any tongue-tied junior.

TENTH: I, Barry (Casanova) Lynch, leave my habit of calling the girls "Babe" and "Beautiful" to Billy Cusick.

ELEVENTH: I, Norma Warren, leave my cute little walk to "Jeanie" Sullivan, who really doesn't need it.

TWELFTH: I, William Sutton, leave my recipe for "Fish and Brew" to Mrs. Greenwood.

THIRTEENTH: I, Pauline Surette, leave office duty to the girl next year who has time for it.

FOURTEENTH: I, Joan Ducharme, leave my ability to make friends quickly at Howe to next year's newcomers.

FIFTEENTH: I, Margaret Leahy, leave with "Joanie" either to help or hinder our country's progress by enlisting in the W.A.F.'s.

SIXTEENTH: I, Kathryn Lewis, leave my illustrious mirror to anyone lucky enough to grab it.

SEVENTEENTH: I, Clare Sheehan, leave to "join" the Marines.

EIGHTEENTH: I, Janice Rogerson, leave my broken nails to Mrs. Dooley, whose classes frayed my nerves.

NINETEENTH: I, Elizabeth Nussey, having been accused of flirtatious ways, leave indignantly.

TWENTIETH: I, Ralph Senna, leave this year in spite of Mr. Franz.

TWENTY-FIRST: I, Richard Belanger, leave with a well-known basketball player.

TWENTY-SECOND: I, Mary Barden, leave to join the ranks of future legislators and barristers.

TWENTY-THIRD: I, Marcia Carmichael, leave my naturally curly hair to Mr. Locke.

TWENTY-FOURTH: I, Lorraine Lambert, leave my basketball uniform to next year's center forward.

TWENTY-FIFTH: I, Frank Luciano, having thoroughly absorbed all the trigonometric functions, leave the math class.

TWENTY-SIXTH: I, Marvin Thompson, leave my detention slips to Miss Richardson.

TWENTY-SEVENTH: I, Robert Wilson, leave my bashfulness to Wendell Sylvester.

TWENTY-EIGHTH: I, Leo Wilson, leave and hope a certain sophomore will follow.

TWENTY-NINTH: I, Edward McGurn, leave my memories of the Junior Prom to "Gimpy".

THIRTIETH: I, Ruth Donnelly, leave Howe after upholding my reputation as a talkative woman.

THIRTY-FIRST: I, Ruth Murphy, leave my "Golden Slippers" to Joan Wasson.

THIRTY-SECOND: I, Virginia Greathead, leave, and will return to referee basketball games for Howe in the near future.

THIRTY-THIRD: I, Robert Loranger, leave my catcher's mitt to any undergrad with a good, firm palm.

THIRTY-FOURTH: I, Roger Lambert, leave my Romeo technique to Paul Johansen.

THIRTY-FIFTH: I, David Sewell, leave my reading technique to "Danny" O'Brien.

THIRTY-SIXTH: I, Bradley Jacobs, having attained one goal and missed another, leave Howe.

THIRTY-SEVENTH: I, Edward Tscherch, leave Howe to assume command of the motorcycle.

THIRTY-EIGHTH: I, Harland Robbins, after proving my great skill in basketball, leave.

THIRTY-NINTH: I, Roland Smith, leave my ability to foul up chemistry experiments to "Eddie".

FORTIETH: I, Arthur Fillmore, leave my best regards to "Hal" Wilson and John Hulett as co-captains in football.

FORTY-FIRST: I, Joan Jenkins, left for "Winkie".

FORTY-SECOND: I, Harry Martell, leave my pleasing smile and winks to next year's Romeo.

FORTY-THIRD: I, Louis Tuleja, leave these parting words to Miss Baker: "Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit".

FORTY-FOURTH: I, Frank Ritter, leave my bow ties to "Tony" DeBenedictis.

FORTY-FIFTH: I, James Daley, leave my knee-guards in the shower.

FORTY-SIXTH: I, Mary Caulfield, leave my ability to recite in English to Jeanette Lambert.

FORTY-SEVENTH: I, Douglas Morrison, leave after four years of dreary study.

FORTY-EIGHTH: I, Doris Joncas, leave my muscels to any future softball slugger.

FORTY-NINTH: I, John Sutcliffe, leave Room 21 papered with my detention slips.

FIFTIETH: I, Nancy Marshall, leave Howe, well "Sutisfied", to raise a football team.

FIFTY-FIRST: I, Corrine Cavanaugh, leave my quiet ways to "Pat" Murray.

FIFTY-SECOND: I, Claire Boyland, leave to cultivate my interests in the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company.

FIFTY-THIRD: I, Richard Derby, leave to become a first-class secretary to any good-looking woman executive.

FIFTY-FOURTH: I, Eleanor Daniels, leave the ink on my face to the mimeograph machine.

FIFTY-FIFTH: I, George Flewelling, leave to Mrs. Dooley my many and sundry wisecracks.

FIFTY-SIXTH: I, Carlene Hartshorn, leave in a broken-down and worn-out vehicle.

FIFTY-SEVENTH: I, David Hentz, leave my trusty pipe to some strong-hearted fellow.

FIFTY-EIGHTH: I, Olga Sacharuk, leave to master the art of breaking locks, so I can get into my car.

FIFTY-NINTH: I, John Thursby, leave my chemistry notebooks to next year's Louis Pasteur.

SIXTIETH: I, John MacLennan, leave my business ventures to anyone with money to lose.

SIXTY-FIRST: I, Duncan MacLennan, leave my curly, blond hair to John Capobianco.

SIXTY-SECOND: I, Charlotte Conway, leave my seat in Room 21 to George Hallenborg.

SIXTY-THIRD: I, Edward Niedzwiecki, leave my love for school to Mr. Shaughnessey.

SIXTY-FOURTH: I, Patricia Barton, leave my "unique" ideas for changing basketball to Nancy Barton.

SIXTY-FIFTH: I, Claire Belyea, leave my cheerleader's uniform to Miss Wain.

SIXTY-SIXTH: I, Ethel Goodyear, leave my liking for Reader's Digest day to Mrs. Dooley.

SIXTY-SEVENTH: I, Margaret Cameron, leave, after accumulating a vast knowledge of chemistry.

SIXTY-EIGHTH: I, Robert Gifford, leave my height to Alden Cousins.

SIXTY-NINTH: I, Edwin Conquest, leave my hunting rifle to any man who can lift it.

SEVENTIETH: I, John Loring, have left school many days to go hunting.

SEVENTY-FIRST: I, Ruth Morris, leave Howe — I hope.

SEVENTY-SECOND: I, Helen Corkum, leave the title of "Queenie" to future nobility.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand, and in the presence of witnesses do declare this document to be our last will this twenty-second day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

MARGARET LEAHY
LORRAINE LAMBERT

On this twenty-second day of June, 1949, A.D., members of the Class of "49", Howe High School, Billerica, Massachusetts, did sign the above document in our presence, and did declare it their last will. Thereafter, we three, in their presence, and in the presence of each other, hereto affix our names.

Woodburn Hydraulic Face Lotion's Latest Flashes

By Walchell Winter

Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. America. This is Walchell Winter, your Washington Correspondent, with my recapitulation of the current situation. This year, 1960, has been a busy one; and many names are in headlines. As usual, I have the latest, unannounced scoops of the year.

FLASH . . . PAULINE SURETTE, noted beautician, has announced her engagement to "Oil King," "KENTUCKY" DERBY — Reverend Marvin Thompson will officiate at the ceremony of marriage, to be held in June.

FLASH . . . EDWARD TSCHERCH has tendered his resignation as Secretary of State in order to take up married life with ELIZABETH NUSSEY, currently chosen Miss Florida Orange.

FLASH . . . ROBERT GIFFORD, explorer extraordinary, has been reported stranded on the moon. Commander EDWARD NIEDZWIECKI of the rocket squadron has ordered six jet planes to be sent to the rescue. FLASH . . . The Three "B's," BELYEA, BOYLAND, and BARTON, have astonished the world with the announcement that they have bought up the entire trained "shmoo" market.

FLASH . . . OLGA SACHARUK has won the United Press Award for the best photograph of the year. "Flash" Sacharuk took a surprise photo of Miss EMILY STREITMATER, in her present residence. Miss Streitmater has risen high in the world of politics. She started as a bank teller, and rose to Bank President; from Bank President she was elected State Treasurer, and from State Treasurer, she has been appointed to her present position as National Chairman of the "March of Dimes."

FLASH . . . In a recent exhibition, Swami Jacobs petrified the audience when the rope act went askew and Bob Loranger found himself dangling from the rafters.

FLASH . . . That hit video program, "It Pays to be Ignorant," has been changed to a new show, "It's Vogue to be Vague." A nation-wide search for talent, heralded by the new board of experts, has been organized with JOHN MacLENNAN's replacing Joe Howard. GEORGE FLEWELLING has taken the place of George Sheldon; DAVID HENTZ now fills the role once held by Harry McNorton. Comedienne "Lulu-Belle" LEWIS has assumed the role of Miss Lulu McConnell. Good luck to the new board of experts. We are sure that they will add something new to show business.

FLASH . . . SPORTS SECTION . . . Coach GEORGE GRACIE'S football team, the "Cream Puffs," met Coach BOB WILSON'S "Lollypops" in the outstanding grid battle of the year. The tournament was held at Memorial Stadium, the largest in the United States. In spite of rumored charges that Coach Gracie had accepted a bribe of bubblegum from "Lips" WARREN, captain of the "Lollypops" cheerleaders, the "Cream Puffs" were in excellent form. After a brilliant forward pass from "ZEKE" WILSON of the "Cream Puffs" to "Happy" ROBBINS, the game was declared a tie. Reason? . . . Water-girl, "Madcap" MURPHY, swiped the football during a triple play, with a double defeat.

FLASH . . . "Ding" BELANGER, popular crooner, has chopped up his piano for firewood. Cause? His wife's, "Ginnie" GREAT-HEAD's, new ermine.

FLASH . . . BACK TO SPORTS . . . World Champion lady wrestler, "Wild El" DANIELS, has accepted a challenge from "Atomic Audrey" LLOYD, Western Champ. The bout will be held at Madison Square Garden, sponsored by Promoter DUNCAN MacLENNAN. Odds show Daniels favored two to one. But — be on the alert, Mr. and Mrs. America, I predict an upset.

FLASH . . . DORIS "General" JONCAS, a young lady who rose in the ranks of the WAPS (Women's Auxiliary Political Society) to National Secretary, has pledged her support to the election of HELEN CORKUM as United States Minister of Defense. With Corkum at the helm, the ship of State will be in dry-dock.

FLASH . . . LATEST BOOK A BEST-SELLER; BUT FIRST, A WORD FROM OUR SPONSOR. I'LL BE BACK IN A FLASH WITH A FLASH.

"Have you tried Woodburn's new face lotion for tired, leathery skin? We will give you a statement from marrying Woodburn Deb, MIRIAM DICKIE. Miss Dickie, tell our audience how you give yourself a beauty facial . . . 'You apply Woodburn's hydraulic face lotion, let dry . . . and peel the scales off your face.' "Thank you, Miss Dickie. Do you want an alluring complexion like Miss Dickie's? Do you want a man like Miss Dickie's charming fiance, ROGER LAMBERT? Well then, try our Woodburn night-cap — and have lovelier, fresher, FLAKIER skin."

AND NOW BACK TO WALCHELL WINTER.

Hello again, Mr. and Mrs. America. I'm back with the sensational "book of the month" release about the current best seller, "Keyhole Incorporated," by MARGARET LEAHY. Miss Leahy, known to her intimates as "Black Maggie," has retired from public life as head of a gambling casino to become an authoress of best-sellers. Here is the story of the book. The story opens with F.B.I. Head, HARRY MARTELL, ordering the arrest of the following on charges of subversive activity: J. DALEY, L. TULEJA, R. SENNA, J. SUTCLIFFE, L. SPONAGLE, M.

CARMICHAEL, E. CONQUEST, and C. CONWAY!! The plot is unfolded by a series of flashbacks.

It seems that the ring has been slipping out important government documents and formulas through unknown channels. So, Detectives "Mac" McGURN, of Homicide, and his partner in criminal detection, NANCY MARSHALL, of Petty Larceny, were put on the trail. They uncovered the fact that "Gentleman Jim" DALEY and LOUIS "The Eye" TULEJA had been spying on government offices. Daley looked over transoms, while Tuleja had the keyhole department. They had been watching the laboratory of Doctor DAVID SEWELL for months. "Confederate," "Slippery Sam" SENNA broke into the laboratory of Nuclear Physicist, Sewell, and left carrying the formula, H_2O , for an atomic atomizer. Our detectives, in disguise, followed the trail of the formula to "Honest John" SUTCLIFFE's "Little Theater off East Wharf," where the formula was slipped to LOUISE, "Swing-n'-Sway," SPONAGLE, a dancer in the show troupe. At the climax of the performance, the formula was concealed in a fan and flung into the audience by Miss Sponagle, where it was picked up by a man in black. Detectives McGurn and Marshall, watching from the third balcony, recognized the man in black as "Killer" CONQUEST, desperado. The "Killer" picked up the note and fled toward the rear of the theater. Detective Marshall took off after the Killer, while Detective McGurn stayed to see if anything else would be uncovered in the show. The Killer passed the formula to "Cautious" CARMICHAEL, who leaped into a taxi with Inspector Marshall at her heels. Returning to meet Detective McGurn, Miss Marshall told him what had taken place, and the two brave law-men invaded the lair of the "Brains," "RED" CONWAY. The entire spy ring was tried before JUDGE WILLIAM SUTTON.

The authoress has introduced a new style in American literature, called the "Completely-blank verse." The profits from this book should be breath-taking.

FLASH . . . Critics report latest stage play to be a great success. The play, "Overboard for Love," stars SUSAN JEAN and ROLAND SMITH in the romantic leads. The Villian, played by BARRY LYNCH, has attracted universal attention. Musical director, BOB KELM, and the one hundred piece orchestra are assisted by beautiful lighting and scenic effects, by FRANK RITTER, noted scenic artist. Among the famous personalities in Doctor Kelm's Symphonic Orchestra are ETHEL GOODYEAR, harp impressario; MARGARET CAMERON, bass viol player; JOHN LORING, drummer; and JOHN THURSBY, flutist.

Make-up director, MARY BARDEN, has surpassed Percy Westmore in technique. Miss Barden now advocates a new neon lipstick for high-lighting the mouth.

The entire proceeds of this magnificent show are to be donated to the CARLENE HARTSHORN Memorial Fund for the prevention of cruelty to starving gold fish.

At the opening premiere of the play, many celebrities were seen among the "first-nighters." ARTHUR FILLMORE, owner of a famous dude ranch in Arizona, and his pretty wife, the former RUTH DONNELLY, were sitting in the first row box. Those two fiery society queens, MARY CAULFIELD and CONNIE CAVANAUGH, were seen in the lobby. They were escorted by dashing ARTHUR JOHANSEN, man - about - town, and FRANK LUCIANO, owner of a department store chain.

FLASH . . . LORRAINE LAMBERT, Olympic high-diving champion and JOAN MCGEOUCH, winner of the marathon, will give a personal appearance tour of the country, under the sponsorship of DOUGLAS MORRISON, athletic director at West Point. The two young experts will talk on the "Importance of Muscles to the Young Lady."

FLASH . . . Miss Buff-Orphington JENKINS, owner of Palm Springs, will hold another of her famous society balls at her penthouse ballroom. This ball will be to herald the debut of JOAN DUCHARME and CLARE SHEEHAN into society. Many stars and celebrities will be present.

And now, Mr. and Mrs. America, before I bid you adieu, let me remind you that the Metropolitan Opera House opens Sunday, with RUTH MORRIS and JANICE ROGERSON, famous young divas, starring in "Carmen Gettit."

This is WALCHELL WINTER, YOUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT, WISHING YOU LOTIONS OF LOVE, FROM WOODBURN.

Howe Cheerleaders

*"Little red rooster
Sitting on a fence
Cheers for Howe High
'Cause he's got sense."*

This year at the various Howe High School football and basketball games, one might see the eleven, smart, peppy cheerleaders, intent upon their task of spurring the Howe athletes on to victory!!

The girls' uniforms, snappy creations of green and white trimmed with Green "H's", created many favorable comments for their owners.

The head cheer-leader, "Sue" Jean, received able assistance from Audrey Lloyd, Claire Belyea, Lorraine Lambert, Ruth Murphy, "Ginny" Greathead, Jean Sullivan, Ruth Strom, Barbara Schmelzer, Thelma Hedberg, and Mary Gibbons. All were capably supervised by their adviser, Miss Eleanor Wain, and their manager, Eleanor Daniels.

The day preceding the Thanksgiving game, a football rally was held in the assembly hall of the high school. The cheerleaders were escorted into the auditorium by the football players, then led the student body in cheering in preparation for their annual game with Chelmsford.

To these girls goes our gratitude for their many new cheers, acrobatics, and winning spirits at the games.

Howe's League Champs

The Howe girls started basketball practice early in December under the direction of Miss Gladys A. Boutillette. By alternating practice sessions with the boys' team, the girls were able to prepare for the season schedule, which began in early January.

The girls participated in the Lowell Suburban League. The teams included in the league were Chelmsford, Tewksbury, Dracut, Johnson, Burlington, and Howe. Transportation for the out-of-town games was furnished by busses. These rides were enjoyed by all.

This is the first time since 1939 that the Howe girls have won the league championship. It is also the first time in the history of the Lowell Suburban League that a girls' team has had ten straight wins. It will also be noted that this year's team has been victorious in its seven extra-league games.

Boys' Basketball

Howe's quintet this year was under the capable direction of Coach Walter Fowler. The team lacked experience at the beginning of the year; but as the season progressed, the boys began to show much promise. Their fighting spirit served as an incentive to improve Howe's standings in league competition.

During the season, the boys had a great deal of fun and gained much valuable experience. They participated in the Suburban League, which included Dracut, Burlington, Chelmsford, Johnson, Tewksbury, and Howe. A banquet, sponsored by the Suburban League, is expected to end the season.

The players on the teams were Captain Harry Martell, George Gracie, Eddie McGurn, George McGurn, Harland Robbins, Billy Cusick, James Daley, Paul Johansen, George Santos, Alden Cousins, Ted Cummings, Billy Robbins, Harold Tomkins, Grant Whiteway, Frank Luciano.

The scores are as follows:

Baseball Team

The Howe High baseball team, ably commandeered by Coach "Chuck" Lampson, established its best record last year in the archives of Howe High when our hard hitting, fast moving team pounded out thirteen victories over four losses. The four defeats which the opposing teams managed to inflict cost the Howe men the Merrimack Valley League title to Johnson of North Andover, and Howe had to be content with second honors. However, even with the loss of last year's seniors, Coach Lampson is confidently eyeing the League title for his charges in the "49" season.

The results were:

Yearbook Staff

Under the skillful supervision of Mrs. Dooley, the Yearbook Staff began in January to prepare the Howe High Yearbook for printing. Although new ideas have been incorporated, old traditions have been upheld. It is our hope that you will receive as much pleasure from reading our edition as we have received in preparing it for you, our reader.

Our staff consisted of the following: editor-in-chief, Louis Tuleja; associate editors, Joan Jenkins, David Hentz, Patricia Barton; sports editors, Virginia Greathead, George Gracie; subscription managers, Mary Barden, Roland Smith; class historian, Susan Jean; candid camera editors, Olga Sacharuk, Doris Joncas; business manager, Bradley Jacobs; business staff, Mary Caulfield, Frank Luciano, Robert Loranger, Ruth Morris, Richard Belanger, Margaret Cameron, Harland Robbins, Ruth Murphy, Marvin Thompson, Arthur Fillmore, Elizabeth Nussey, Arthur Johansen; prophecy committee, Robert Kelm, chairman; Barry Lynch, George Flewell-ing, Harry Martell, Frank Ritter, Duncan MacLennan; will committee, Margaret Leahy, chairman; Lorraine Lambert, James Daley, Ruth Donnelly, Charlotte Conway; typists, Eleanor Daniels, Doris Joncas, Susan Jean, Audrey Lloyd, Carlene Hartshorn, Olga Sacharuk, Ethel Goodyear, Miriam Dickie; art, Nancy Marshall, Kathryn Lewis; boosters, Emily Streitmater, Robert Gifford; write-up committee, John Loring, Norma Warren, Helen Corkum, Edward McGurn, Claire Belyea; patrons, Louise Sponagle, Clare Sheehan.

We wish to extend to Mrs. Dooley our sincere appreciation for her willing counsel in supervising the yearbook of 1949.

Senior Play

"June Mad", a comedy in three acts, written by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, was presented by the senior class on December tenth in the Maurice A. Buck Auditorium.

The play cast consisted of Susan Jean as Penny Wood, a pretty fifteen year old who tries to make herself sophisticated; Roland Smith as Chuck Harris, the ardent admirer of Penny; Helen Corkum as Mrs. Wood, the bewildered but helpful mother of Penny; Duncan MacLennan as Elmer Tuttle, a mischievous handyman; Bradley Jacobs as Dr. Wood, the very concerned father; Kathryn Lewis as Effie, a typical, comical maid; Claire Boyland as Milly Lou, the mischievous girl next door; Louis Tuleja as G. Mervyn Roberts, the debonair young brother of Mrs. Wood; Barry Lynch as Roger Van Vleck, a handsome play boy from college; Ruth Murphy as Julie Harris, a pretty, young debutante; Lorraine Lambert as Shirley Wentworth and Arthur Johansen as Ralph Wentworth, two dashing young friends of Penny; Richard Derby as Mr. Harris, the typical American father.

We are greatly indebted for the time and the effort that Mrs. Alice S. Card contributed to make the play the great success that it was.

Tri-Delta Club

This year, the girls of Tri-Delta, mindful of their motto of Duty, Deference, and Decorum, enjoyed a very progressive year.

The officers chosen by the girls were as follows: president, Helen Corkum; vice-president, Doris Joncas; secretary, Carlene Hartshorn; and treasurer, Olga Sacharuk. Claire Belyea was chosen as social chairman and was ably assisted by her committee which consisted of Joan Jenkins, Susan Jean, Nancy Marshall, Audrey Lloyd, and Patricia Barton.

Under the successful guidance of Miss Mary I. Wood, the girls held many social affairs which contributed much to the pleasure of their senior year. Among the special features were the Halloween Party; their Rug-Beat Hop; the very successful food sale; and their memorable spring dance.

During the year, meetings were conducted socially each Wednesday noon in one of the classrooms.

The Tri-Delta of '49 extends its best wishes to the coming club of '50 and hopes that it will have as much enjoyment as they in all their activities.

Glee Club

Two groups of voices were raised in merry song. One group was the chorus. All students who chose to participate in musical activities belonged to this large group of girls and boys.

Chosen from this fine group of vocal students was a special group called the Glee Club. Miss Pauline Young was the director of both groups and did an excellent job of leading the choristers.

Orchestra

Under the very capable direction of Miss Pauline Young, the Howe High School orchestra has produced many splendid interpretations of classical and popular selections. The students interested in music have been able to develop further their musical knowledge and instrumental technique. They also have been able to share in the valuable experience of playing together under a musical director.

The orchestra has added great spirit to the school assemblies and other events throughout the year.

Selections included in the orchestra's repertoire are the "March of the Little Tin Soldiers" by Pierne, the gay and spirited "Tambourine Dance" by Rameau, "The Mikado" by Sullivan, and the "Militant March of Progress", Herfurth.

The members of the orchestra are as follows: violin section: Geraldine Musgrave, Ludolf Megow, Emily Streitmater, and Christle Hutchings; cello sections: Virginia Kelm, Geraldine Groves, and Karla Hutchings; flute section: Nancy Marshall, Joan Dormer, and James Shack; clarinet section: Jack Muise; trumpet section: David Riecks; trombone section: Louis Tuleja and John Cheney; drums: Edward Smith; piano: Kathryn Lewis and William Terris.

"Scholastic Review"

This year the "Scholastic Review," again under the supervision of Miss Dora Kelley, attempted to provide the reading public of the Billerica News with the high school news of note.

The feature articles and the biographical sketches of well-known Howe High students were continued by this year's staff. Bits of the lighter and the brighter side of school life appeared in the "Dots and Dashes" column, which proved to be one of the most popular of its features.

The activities of the various classes, the organizations, the sports were reported on a weekly basis and were printed at the convenience and the discretion of the newspaper editors.
